A BETTER ALTERNATIVE...

ABOUT US

QC Kinetix (Lansing) is a healing arts facility offering biologic therapies for people suffering from the debilitating symptoms of joint pain. Our non-surgical regenerative medicine treatments provide a world of possibilities to individuals who have previously undergone surgery or are looking for alternative solutions to surgery. When the body's structure begins to deteriorate, pain and mobility issues can be devastating. Many people want a surgical solution when they experience joint pain. Still, we offer an innovative option instead – non-surgical regenerative medicine treatments that can help reduce inflammation and increase the body's ability to heal itself. Regenerative medicine has been shown successfully in treating patients who are experiencing hip pain after a fall or hip replacement surgery, knee pain following sports injuries or surgery, elbow pain caused by tennis elbow, shoulder pain due to rotator cuff injuries or throwing sports injuries, or wrist pain from tennis elbow. If you are looking for regenerative medicine near me, call us today!
